

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD

In England and France the Sale of Alum Baking Powder is prohibited by law because of the injurious effects that follow its use.

The law in the District of Columbia also prohibits Alum in food.

You may live where as yet you have no protection against Alum. The only sure protection against Alum in your Baking Powder is to Say plainly—

Thomas Ashford, Sr., Dead.
Another of Dakota county's pioneers passed to the great beyond since our last issue. The cold hand of death was laid on one who had braved the hardships of pioneer life to make a home here for himself and family.
Thomas Ashford was born April 10, 1828, in Wicklow county, Ireland; died April 18, 1907. He had been in feeble health for several years past, and gradually grew weaker until death gained its victory.
Deceased came to America in 1849, landing in New Orleans. From there he went to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he resided two years, then moved to Indiana and made that state his home until 1856. On March 10th of that year he arrived in Dakota county and has since made this his home.
He was married to Miss Maggie Duggan April 1, 1861, in the Catholic church at Jackson, Neb, and settled on the farm near Homer where he has resided ever since.
His devoted wife and six children survive him—The children are Thomas, John, George and Mrs Julia Ryan, of Homer; Mrs Mary Thuel, of Chicago; Mrs Maggie Maxwell, of Dakota City.
By hard work and an honest upright life he had amassed considerable property consisting of some of the best land in Omaha precinct. The work is not only in the city but in the hamlets round about. Every month three times I try to make the rounds of the villages about this place, and the remainder of the time, I spend in Iaunja in the homes of the zannans of the higher castes. These Iaunja men are constantly increasing, especially in the zannans. The women here meet me in a very pleasant and kind way and listen to my religious instruction from their hearts. Whenever I go to their homes they leave whatever work they are at and come and attend me. The singing of hymns and songs is a common thing, but to my mind the important thing is the teaching of the word, and with all my heart I try to teach them the gospel, that they may really know what there is of truth of the Christian's sacred book. And when I teach them the word they do not only in the city but in the hamlets round about. Every month three times I try to make the rounds of the villages about this place, and the remainder of the time, I spend in Iaunja in the homes of the zannans of the higher castes. These Iaunja men are constantly increasing, especially in the zannans. The women here meet me in a very pleasant and kind way and listen to my religious instruction from their hearts. Whenever I go to their homes they leave whatever work they are at and come and attend me. The singing of hymns and songs is a common thing, but to my mind the important thing is the teaching of the word, and with all my heart I try to teach them the gospel, that they may really know what there is of truth of the Christian's sacred book. And when I teach them the word they do not only in the city but in the hamlets round about.
